

Our Donation Commitment

At Annavedah Foods, food has always meant more than nourishment.

It represents care, responsibility, and the simple belief that no living being should be left hungry.

This belief is also the reason behind one of the most meaningful commitments of our brand:

10% of our sales will be dedicated to supporting pet care centres across India.

Every order placed with Annavedah Foods contributes not only to your kitchen, but also to the well-being of animals that depend on human kindness for survival.

Why This Matters To Us

The foundation of this initiative comes from a very personal thought held deeply by our founder:

Humans, despite struggles, have the ability to work, earn, and search for ways to meet their needs.

But animals live differently.

A pet, a rescued animal, or an abandoned life waiting in a shelter cannot ask for food, cannot earn, and cannot explain hunger.

Their survival often depends entirely on compassion.

And compassion should never be limited.

Whether it is a dog, cat, bird, rabbit, or any other animal receiving care in shelters and pet support centres, every life deserves food, safety, and attention.

This is why a part of every sale made through Annavedah Foods carries a purpose beyond business.

It becomes a contribution toward care.

Food With Responsibility

We believe that when food reaches one home, kindness can reach another life too.

The same trust customers place in our products allows us to extend support where it is needed.

Each purchase helps us participate in something meaningful:

- supporting food needs for sheltered animals
- contributing to pet care and welfare centres
- encouraging kindness beyond commerce
- turning everyday purchases into small acts of care

Our Founder's Belief

This initiative reflects a simple belief from our founder:

If we are able to serve food to people, we should also remember those who cannot ask for it themselves.

Animals love without conditions.

They depend without words.

And often, they wait for care that only human kindness can provide.

For us, giving back to pet care centres is not a campaign.

It is a responsibility we genuinely want to carry forward.

Every Purchase Carries Care

When you choose Annavedah Foods, you are choosing more than food for your family.

You are also becoming part of a small but meaningful effort to support animals across India.

Your trust helps us continue this commitment.

And together, ordinary purchases can create extraordinary care.
